

SCOTT BAKER

Managing Member

RTD Logistics/Skycom Courier,
Allston, MA

Scott Baker, a member of the Massachusetts Delivery Association and Customized Logistics and Delivery Association (CLDA) directs the operations of this rapidly growing full-service express delivery enterprise, which focuses on expedited package delivery logistics planning and consultation. He co-founded the company shortly after graduating from Boston University in 1985 having been granted a degree in business administration with concentration in finance.

Born in Los Angeles, California, Scott spent his early years in the city of Rancho Palos Verdes and attended elementary and the first year and half of high school there. The Baker family later moved to Villanova, Pennsylvania where he graduated from Harriton High School, attended Bridgeton Academy in Maine and moved on to Boston University.

An avid consumer of continuing professional development opportunities, Scott was a participant in the 2007 class of Inner City Entrepreneurs' (Interise) program. As well, he was a participant in the Dartmouth (Tuck) School of Business Minority Business Executive Program and similar programs at his alma mater, Boston University. He is a member of Boston's Urban League; and for recreation, is a frequent golfer and member of the Inner Club at the Franklin Park Golf Club.
