

April Cimorelli is a Supplier Diversity professional. After 10 years at Staples, April has recently joined the Mass Mutual team as a Supplier Diversity Consultant. April began her Supplier Diversity journey at Staples while working with the Facilities team. After having the opportunity to attend an expo at GNEMSDC, April knew this was the journey she was supposed to take. It is her responsibility to manage the relationships internally with all decision makers as well as all current and potential vendors. Her mission is to work with diverse organizations to help them succeed in every aspect of business.

In her spare time, you can find April at a baseball field, soccer field or at a hockey rink supporting her 2 sons.
